

It was Independence Day Country/Western style at the Radisson Resort!

Line dancing and cowboy hats ruled around the pool of the Radisson Resort in Palm Beach as island visitors and Arubans celebrated American Independence Day. The Antonio Bello Blues Band showed they were quite expert in performing good 'ol fashion Country/Western, and some tourists came prepared with their stompin' western boots! DJ Alvin of the Monto Blanco Ranch kept the music going with great favorites while the band took a break, and had the attendees on the dance floor.

Independence Day under the stars was arranged by Itala Wever, a lover of Country/Western, and she and her daughter showed they could line dance with the best of them. The Schnurrs of Ontario, Canada joined their new friends, the Contaldis of Wayne, New Jersey to prove you didn't have to be born in the U.S.A. to enjoy an old fashioned hoedown!
